

The best way to find a new position is through research, networking and above all strategic planning. What resources are you exploring? Here's a list of starters for your search. As you find others, please forward them to kamconsulthr@gmail.com.

- Military Officers Association of America (MOAA) Career Networking (<https://www.moaa.org/career>)
 - Webinar Archive on various transition topics
 - MOAA's Job Board in Partnership with Indeed (under construction)
 - MOAA on LinkedIn (Besides the info and connections on the MOAA Career Networking LinkedIn).
 - 6 Tips to Maximize Your LinkedIn Profile
 - Webinar: Harnessing the Power of LinkedIn
 - Should You Accept That LinkedIn Connection Request
- JBSA Connect App
 - Military and Family Resource Center
 - M&FRC Calendar of Events for Lackland, Ft Sam Houston and Randolph
 - Financial Readiness
 - Employment Assistance
 - Transition Assistance
 - TAP/Skillbridge
 - DoD Transition Assistance Program
 - TAP Online Courses
 - DoD Skillbridge
- Vets2Industry (www.vets2industry.org) is a nonprofit organization that provides resources, events, and mentorship for military members, veterans, and their families. Learn how to access career opportunities, connect...
- Your professional organization. There are a number of such connections based upon profession. A great source for skills enhancement, certification and networking to include job leads.
 - www.shrm.org for the Society of Human Resource Management
 - www.nspe.org for the National Society of Professional Engineers
- Explore LinkedIn or other networking opportunities such as San Antonio IT Networking Group.